Disclaimer Testimonials

Last Updated on May 24, 2023

Testimonials are obtained via an anonymous survey; below is the wording used in the prompt of the client satisfaction survey:

"Would you write an anonymous testimonial for Carrie's Private Practice Website? If yes, please write your comments below. By entering your comments below, you consent to have your testimonial listed on her business website. No identifying information is collected through this form; therefore, Carrie cannot identify it; only the testimonial text could be included on the website. Thank you! "

With this procedure, no client information is shared with this writer; therefore, it does not affect the therapeutic relationship but allows insight into the client experience.
